

Fancy a Walk?

Comberton Ramblers take to the footpaths on alternate Sunday mornings. Walks are from 4 to 8 miles, usually ending near a public house with food (or a few longer walks have a lunch break near a pub part way).

We are based in the village of Comberton, near Cambridge, but our walks stray into neighbouring counties of Suffolk, Essex, Hertfordshire and Bedfordshire.

Our countryside is more varied than you think – One memorable walk included a medieval gateway, a dry water mill, a pig, an abbot, and a llama farm!

Contact Eileen Marsh (01223 262940), or email to eileen at thecovert dot fsnet.co.uk for more information, or see the web pages at www.combertonramblers.org.uk.

